DETAILED ACTION

Notice to Applicant

This communication is in response to the communication filed 03/31/2004.

Pending claim(s): 1-34. New claim(s): 27-34.

Response to Amendment

The preliminary amendment filed 03/31/2004 is hereby entered and considered.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1, 27, drawn to a human ID card, classified in class 705, subclass 2.
- II. Claims 2, 28, drawn to a human ID card, classified in class 705, subclass 2.
- III. Claims 3, 29, drawn to a human ID card, classified in class 705, subclass 2.
- IV. Claims 4, 30, drawn to a human ID card, classified in class 705, subclass 2.
- V. Claims 5, 31, drawn to a human ID card, classified in class 705, subclass 2.

- VI. Claims 6, 32, drawn to a human ID card, classified in class 705, subclass 2.
- VII. Claims 7-9, drawn to a method of retrieving patient data, classified in class 705, subclass 3.
- VIII. Claims 10-12, drawn to a method of retrieving patient data, classified in class 705, subclass 3.
- IX. Claims 13-15, drawn to a method of retrieving patient data, classified in class 705, subclass 3.
- X. Claims 16-18, drawn to a method of retrieving patient data, classified in class 705, subclass 3.
- XI. Claims 19-21, drawn to a method of retrieving patient data, classified in class 705, subclass 3.
- XII. Claims 22-24, drawn to a method of retrieving patient data, classified in class 705, subclass 3.
- XIII. Claims 25, 33, drawn to a pet ID card, classified in class 705, subclass 2.
- XIV. Claims 26, 34, drawn to a pet ID card, classified in class 705, subclass 2.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I-VI, XIII-XIV are directed to related products. The related inventions are distinct if: (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions as claimed are not usable together because each invention is a distinct ID card product. There is nothing in the record that would suggest that these inventions may be usable together, i.e. two different cards, as claimed, are not usable together.

Additionally, each invention contains different data structures and therefore would function differently by nature of their different designs.

Inventions I and VII, II and VIII, III and IX, IV and X, V and XI, VI and XII are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case the processes of using the respective product may be implemented with materially different ID cards.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;

- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
